On December 14, 2020 FSGCO–A, FSGCO–D, FSGCO–T, FSGCO–T2 and FSGCO–ADV (the Funds) reorganized and the Funds will merge into a single fund, FSGCO. This page reflects the historical pricing of the FSGCO after that point. See the following pages for information relating to the historical pricing of the Funds.

- 1 The Company's NAV per common share as of the applicable dates shown above, is the NAV determined by the Company for purposes of complying with the requirements of Section 23(b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and has not been approved by the Company's board of trustees. The Company's NAV per common share may increase or decrease in the future and any such change may be material.
- 2 Based on the distribution amount as of the applicable closing date. The annualized distribution rates shown are expressed as percentages equal to the annualized distribution amount (which is calculated by annualizing the regular distribution amount per share as of the applicable closing date, without compounding), divided by the public offering price per share as of the applicable closing date. The Company's distributions were funded in significant part by the reimbursement of certain expenses, including through the waiver of investment advisory fees, and additional support payments that may be subject to repayment to the Company's affiliate, Franklin Square Holdings, L.P. ("FS Investments"), and the Company's future distributions may be funded from such waivers, reimbursements and payments. Significant portions of these distributions were not based on FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund's (the "Fund") investment performance and such waivers, reimbursements or payments by FS Investments may not continue in the future. If FS Investments had not agreed to reimburse certain of the Company's expenses, including through the waiver of certain advisory fees, and provide additional support payments, significant portions of these distributions would have come from offering proceeds or borrowings. The repayment of any amounts owed to FS Investments will reduce the future distributions to which investors would otherwise be entitled. The payment of future distributions on the Company's common shares is subject to the discretion of the Company's board of trustees and applicable legal restrictions and, therefore, there can be no assurance as to the amount or timing of any such future distributions.

An investment in FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund (FSGCO) involves a high degree of risk and may be considered speculative. Investors are advised to consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of FSGCO carefully. Investors should read and carefully consider all information found in FSGCO's reports filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Past performance does not guarantee future results.

- 1 The Company's NAV per common share as of the applicable dates shown above, is the NAV determined by the Company for purposes of complying with the requirements of Section 23(b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and has not been approved by the Company's board of trustees. The Company's NAV per common share may increase or decrease in the future and any such change may be material.
- 2 Based on the distribution amount as of the applicable closing date. The annualized distribution rates shown are expressed as percentages equal to the annualized distribution amount (which is calculated by annualizing the regular distribution amount per share as of the applicable closing date, without compounding), divided by the net asset value per share as of the applicable closing date. The Company's distributions were funded in significant part by the reimbursement of certain expenses, including through the waiver of investment advisory fees, and additional support payments that may be subject to repayment to the Company's affiliate, Franklin Square Holdings, L.P. ("FS Investments"), and the Company's future distributions may be funded from such waivers, reimbursements and payments. Significant portions of these distributions were not based on FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund's (the "Fund") investment performance and such waivers, reimbursements or payments by FS Investments may not continue in the future. If FS Investments had not agreed to reimburse certain of the Company's expenses, including through the waiver of certain advisory fees, and provide additional support payments, significant portions of these distributions would have come from offering proceeds or borrowings. The repayment of any amounts owed to FS Investments will reduce the future distributions to which investors would otherwise be entitled. The payment of future distributions on the Company's common shares is subject to the discretion of the Company's board of trustees and applicable legal restrictions and, therefore, there can be no assurance as to the amount or timing of any such future distributions.

An investment in FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund (FSGCO) involves a high degree of risk and may be considered speculative. Investors are advised to consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of FSGCO carefully. Investors should read and carefully consider all information found in FSGCO's reports filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

- 1 The Company's NAV per common share as of the applicable dates shown above, is the NAV determined by the Company for purposes of complying with the requirements of Section 23(b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and has not been approved by the Company's board of trustees. The Company's NAV per common share may increase or decrease in the future and any such change may be material.
- 2 Based on the distribution amount as of the applicable closing date. The annualized distribution rates shown are expressed as percentages equal to the annualized distribution amount (which is calculated by annualizing the regular distribution amount per share as of the applicable closing date, without compounding), divided by the public offering price per share as of the applicable closing date. The Company's distributions were funded in significant part by the reimbursement of certain expenses, including through the waiver of investment advisory fees, and additional support payments that may be subject to repayment to the Company's affiliate, Franklin Square Holdings, L.P. ("FS Investments"), and the Company's future distributions may be funded from such waivers, reimbursements and payments. Significant portions of these distributions were not based on FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund's (the "Fund") investment performance and such waivers, reimbursements or payments by FS Investments may not continue in the future. If FS Investments had not agreed to reimburse certain of the Company's expenses, including through the waiver of certain advisory fees, and provide additional support payments, significant portions of these distributions would have come from offering proceeds or borrowings. - 1 The Company's NAV per common share as of the applicable dates shown above, is the NAV determined by the Company for purposes of complying with the requirements of Section 23(b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and has not been approved by the Company's board of trustees. The Company's NAV per common share may increase or decrease in the future and any such change may be material.
- 2 Based on the distribution amount as of the applicable closing date. The annualized distribution rates shown are expressed as percentages equal to the annualized distribution amount (which is calculated by annualizing the regular distribution amount per share as of the applicable closing date, without compounding), divided by the public offering price per share as of the applicable closing date. The Company's distributions were funded in significant part by the reimbursement of certain expenses, including through the waiver of investment advisory fees, and additional support payments that may be subject to repayment to the Company's affiliate, Franklin Square Holdings, L.P. ("FS Investments"), and the Company's future distributions may be funded from such waivers, reimbursements and payments. Significant portions of these distributions were not based on FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund's (the "Fund") investment performance and such waivers, reimbursements or payments by FS Investments may not continue in the future. If FS Investments had not agreed to reimburse certain of the Company's expenses, including through the waiver of certain advisory fees, and provide additional support payments, significant portions of these distributions would have come from offering proceeds or borrowings. The repayment of any amounts owed to FS Investments will reduce the future distributions to which investors would otherwise be entitled. The payment of future distributions on the Company's common shares is subject to the discretion of the Company's board of trustees and applicable legal restrictions and, therefore, there can be no assurance as to the amount or timing of any such future distributions.

An investment in FS Global Credit Opportunities Fund (FSGCO) involves a high degree of risk and may be considered speculative. Investors are advised to consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of FSGCO carefully. Investors should read and carefully consider all information found in FSGCO's reports filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
