

FS Investment Corporation IV

Summary

FS Investment Corporation IV (FSIC IV) entered into an agreement and plan of merger with FS Investment Corporation II (FSIC II), FS Investment Corporation III (FSIC III) and Corporate Capital Trust II (CCT II) to create the second-largest business development company (BDC) in the market, with approximately $9 billion in assets on a pro forma basis as of June 30, 2019.

The mergers are part of a proposed three-step process toward a liquidity event for all shareholders.

1 Merger: FSIC II will serve as the surviving entity in net asset value (NAV)-for-NAV mergers with FSIC III, FSIC IV and CCT II.

2 Recapitalization: Following the completion of the merger and subject to board approval, the combined company intends to issue preferred stock on a pro rata basis to the existing holders of common stock of FSIC II, FSIC III, FSIC IV and CCT II with an aggregate liquidation preference of approximately 20% of the combined company's NAV.

The preferred shares will provide current income for investors (5.5%) and help align the dividend yield, dividend coverage and return on equity of the combined company's common stock to a competitive level with some of the largest publicly traded BDCs.

Following the recapitalization, an investor's total value will consist of the following, assuming the value of the common shares is the NAV per share and the value of the preferred shares is the liquidation preference:

- Common shares of the combined company representing approximately 80% of total shareholder value
- Preferred shares of the combined company representing approximately 20% of total shareholder value

3 Listing: After the merger and recapitalization, the combined company intends to list its common shares on the New York Stock Exchange, subject to market conditions and board approval.

Key objectives

The staged liquidity plan is designed to maximize shareholder value, position the combined company's common stock for a public listing and achieve the following:

1

Ensure FSIC IV investors receive equal value in shares of the combined company

2

Increase annualized distribution amount & align distribution with public BDC peers

3

Diversify the combined portfolio

4

Mitigate execution risks of public listing

Ensure FSIC IV investors receive equal value in shares of the combined company

FSIC IV investors will receive equal value of FSIC II's common shares through a NAV-for-NAV merger. In the illustration below, FSIC IV shareholders would receive 1.3661 shares of FSIC II common stock for each share of FSIC IV.

ILLUSTRATIVE NAV-FOR-NAV EXCHANGE RATIO (as of 6/30/2019)

	FSIC IV	FSIC II (surviving entity)	Pro forma of the combined company*
Total NAV ($ millions)	$338	$2,558	$5,196
Total common shares outstanding (millions)	32	326	663
NAV per share	$10.71	$7.84	$7.84
(/) FSIC II NAV per share	$7.84	—	—
Exchange ratio	1.3661	—	—

The hypothetical scenario above is based on NAV as of June 30, 2019 and is for illustrative purposes only. It does not include the impact of adjustments contained in the merger agreement, including, but not limited to, merger-related expenses and special distributions.

*Not shown are FSIC III and CCT II.

To put the exchange ratio in context, see the hypothetical illustration below. Assuming an investor owned $100,000 in FSIC IV shares prior to the merger, applying an exchange ratio of 1.3661 would result in the investor receiving approximately 12,755 shares of FSIC II common shares (approximately 9,337 shares owned pre-merger, multiplied by the exchange ratio).

The post-merger value would also equal $100,000 (12,755 shares multiplied by FSIC II's NAV of $7.84 per share). Please note that this illustration does not take into account merger-related expenses, other adjustments or any changes in net asset value that could cause the post-merger shareholder value to be higher or lower than the pre-merger value.

Finally, assuming the board approves the recapitalization, investors would hold approximately 80% of their pre-merger value in common shares of the combined company and approximately 20% in preferred shares.

HYPOTHETICAL SHAREHOLDER EXPERIENCE

Beginning shareholder value	$100,000
Number of FSIC IV common shares <sup>1</sup>	9,337	Shareholder value post-recapitalization
(x) Exchange ratio	1.3661	Common shares <sup>2</sup>
Number of FSIC II common shares	12,755	Preferred shares <sup>2</sup>
Ending shareholder value	$100,000	Total shareholder value
		$80,000
		$20,000
		$100,000

Figures may have been rounded.

1 $100,000 / FSIC IV's NAV per share of $10.71 as of June 30, 2019.

2 Assumes approximately $1 billion issuance of preferred equity to the common equity holders. Exact amount will be determined by the combined company's board. Assumes the value of common shares is the NAV per share and the value of preferred shares is the liquidation preference.

Increase annualized distribution amount & align distribution with public BDC peers

We expect that the total annualized blended distribution amount of the combined company's common and preferred shares will be higher than FSIC IV's annualized distribution amount as of June 30, 2019.

EXPECT TO INCREASE ANNUALIZED BLENDED DISTRIBUTION AMOUNT<sup>3</sup>

(Based on hypothetical $100,000 in shareholder value)

Annualized blended distribution amount

CHANGE IN BLENDED DISTRIBUTION YIELD<sup>3</sup>

Blended distribution yield

<sup>3</sup> Pre-merger distribution is equal to FSIC IV's Q2 2019 distribution and yield on common shares based on the fund's NAV as of June 30, 2019. Assumes 20% of shareholder value is in preferred shares following the recapitalization, the preferred shares have a 5.5% dividend and the combined company pays aggregate annualized distributions on its common shares that are equal to 80% of FSIC II's aggregate annualized distributions on common shares as of June 30, 2019.

We also anticipate that the recapitalization will help align the combined company's distribution yield on its common stock and distribution coverage with some of the largest BDCs in the market. Since public markets generally assign a higher valuation to BDCs with strong distribution coverage, we view the issuance of the recapitalization as a critical step toward preparing the common shares for a public listing.

MAINTAIN STRONG DISTRIBUTION COVERAGE IN PREPARATION FOR A PUBLIC LISTING<sup>4</sup>

Net investment income as % of distribution

<sup>4</sup> Pre-merger distribution coverage based on FSIC IV's distribution coverage over the last 12 months as of June 30, 2019. Post-recapitalization assumes 20% of shareholder value is in preferred shares following the recapitalization, the preferred shares have a 5.5% dividend and the combined company pays aggregate annualized distributions on its common shares that are equal to 80% of FSIC II's aggregate annualized distributions on common shares as of June 30, 2019.

Diversify the combined portfolio

The combination is expected to enhance portfolio diversification while maintaining our focus on senior secured, floating rate debt of private U.S. middle market companies.

	FSIC IV <sup>5,6</sup> (as of 6/30/2019)	Pro forma <sup>5,6,7</sup>
Increase number of portfolio companies	87	206
Reduce concentration of top 10 issuers	34.6%	28.0%
Reduce single name exposure	1.15%	0.49%
Maintain focus on senior secured debt	75%	84%
Maintain focus on floating rate debt	65%	76%

5 Based on fair value.

6 Does not include investments underlying the fund's total return swap (TRS) financing arrangement with Citibank, N.A.

7 Assumes the merger of each of FSIC III, FSIC IV and CCT II into FSIC II closes.

Mitigate execution risks of public listing

Key highlights of the staged liquidity plan:

- The plan allows FS/KKR Advisor, LLC and the board to evaluate an optimal path for liquidity following the merger, taking into account market conditions, valuations of publicly traded BDC peers and the performance of the combined company, among other considerations.
- A single transaction encompassing all non-traded funds eliminates the uncertainty of timing and impact of future mergers on shareholder value.
- Preferred share issuance helps align expected dividend yield, dividend coverage and return on equity of the combined company to a competitive level with some of the largest BDCs in the market.
